	criteria shared between these facilities. Focus (4): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Blood transfusion: ACS requires that transfer patients from other hospitals receiving blood to maintain vital signs is an activation criteria. Using wording from gathered criteria. If it's a trauma patient receiving blood products by EMS; hospital will activate...will not change EMS process. If patient is actively getting transfused by EMS, trauma team should be activated. Workgroup suggested standardizing this and making pre-hospital blood transfusion an indication for trauma team activation. Suggested defining "pre-hospital" as some may see this as only EMS, not transferring facility. Trauma Medical Directors at all facilities will have to review and agree prior to roll out. • Tourniquet use: Any tourniquet usage should cause trauma team activation. 66% that arrive with tourniquets go straight to OR. • Open book pelvic fractures: Pelvic binders will be used more frequently in the field. Committee agreed this should activate the trauma team. Requested each hospital review their data. Pertains to mechanical and hemodynamic. Dr. McNutt noted the pre-hospital criteria for pelvic binders seems to be working well. HCA Northwest noted some EMS personnel are putting binders on too high. Education is being provided roughly 3 in 6 months. • GSW to extremities: Previously an ACS criteria. Suggested all adult level I and II facilities adopt provided criteria. With inhouse trauma services available. 	recommendations
