Presenter: David Watson Topic: New Business ○ June is National Safety Month ○ Law Enforcement to speak on gun safety/violence	David reached out to two firearm safety instructors to come and speak at today's meeting, but they were unable to attend. He gave them a list of the firearm scheduled meetings they will let him know when their schedule permits. He sat on the GETAC meeting on game warden he is going to try to get someone from that agency to come out as well and speak to the group. David mentioned the City of Houston's Gun Buyback program happening Saturday June 10th from 8am-12pm in the yellow lot if anybody was available to go. Sarah Beth asked if its possible to support DPS keep 'Em Safe Texas that is less branded information. Being that no one from Memorial Hermann is available to be there and being that SETRAC is a council for all agencies it would be better not to hand out branded material and maybe do Texas DPS Keep 'Em Safe, Texas gun safety initiative. Kristen suggested to get a list of future buyback events so that we can plan to attend to pass out firearm prevention material. September is the big fall safety fest event to have the SETRAC and the whole injury prevention committee set up with material and information. Last year HCA, and Methodist was out there, and Memorial Hermann sponsored a sign. David is on the education subcommittee and has a planning meeting on the 28th of June after which he will get the information to Carrman.	The committee has no further recommendations.

The form was tabled until the next meeting.	The committee has no further recommendations.

two learning points.	Future Goals The database is a great tool for collaborating with stakeholders and other committees. It will be a means to see what's out there, what is offered, and what everyone is doing. David asked the group what future goals they wanted to work towards. He mentioned safe storage and home safety. David mentioned last Friday at the Baker Institute he spoke with one of the speakers who's with the Harris County Veterans Agency who is interested in coming to one of the workgroup meetings to speak on their initiative on suicide prevention that they have started up. David advised he will get him on the list to come and speak. Community engagement events If anyone know of any large community engagement events let the firearm workgroup know so they can make a presence. Sarah Beth mentioned that she was on the panel to speak at the Rice University Baker Institute for unintentional injuries last Friday the 8hr webinar event is available and the posters were posted on the website as well. If anyone want to watch the webinar go to Baker Institute Firearms, it will come up first. GETAC injury prevention and public education committee has reintroduced the firearm safety topic.
